INJURED TECH PLAYERS BACK AT WORK

IENS, Ga., Dec. 3.—Old Sanford field was soppy and cold underfoot this afternoon as the Bulldogs prepared for the final football examination of the year.

Frank Thomas had a backfield squad of talented freshmen demonstrating Georgia Tech passes for the edification of varsity defensive backs. Coach Harry Mehre was checking the defense.

Gene Smith and Frank Dudley were drilling a gang of freshmen in Tech formations, preparing for the scrimmage that closed out the practice. Chick Shiver had a flock of burly guards out as targets for his ends to practice blocking.

All in all, the Bulldogs seemed to be in the pink-not, too pink—and looking forward with eagerness to the Tech game. The Bulldogs did not impress one as a cocky, over-confident lot, but certainly they were not afraid of the Yellow Jackets with their new offense and all that.

TWO YEARS AGO TODAY.

Your correspondent could not help recalling a certain Tuesday afternoon in 1927 when he visited old Sanford field. It was cold and wet and the Bulldogs were disposed here and there in groups going over their lessons on Tech's offense.

That was the Dream and Wonder team of hallowed memory and yet is referred to as the best team

Well, that day the D & W squad was bored and tired and worn out. They were surfeited with winning football games and still bore charleyhorses acquired in beating Alabama at Birmingham a few afternoons

The D & W team that day had 11 flat wheels. At least that was the impression I carried back home. And it led the writer to dare professional disgrace by picking Tech to win when Georgia was a 3-to-1 favorite in the street.

BULLDOGS IN PINK.

I mean to report that the present Georgia team is in excellent physical and mental balance. They will be ready to play their best against Georgia Tech Saturday. They are not bored with football but rather are anxious to play some more.

They have been tempered in the furnace of adversity and have come out as springy as a rapier.

I do not feel like picking Tech, the long shot, to win. Quite to the contrary.

The Yellow Jackets, being healthy and eager to win and quite capable as a football team in spite of several defeats, have a glittering outside chance. That goes without saying.

But Georgia certainly will carry the balance of the odds into the game with them. They will have to recede from their Alabama form to lose.

Here is a word from the Costas. everybody not to bother about bringing lunch. We fed everybody we could get inside for the Yale game and had plenty left over. This time we are ready to look after everybody again."

The same organization, perfected through the practice they had in the Yale game, will handle traffic again. From all reports the road to Atlanta is no bargain but the railroads are doing business as usual.

Charles E. Martin is getting out a handsome souvenir program with one hand and selling tickets with the other.

RED-HEADED GUARDS.

Here is a note that came just before I left Altanta:

Dear Ed:—We are proud of our pair of "red heads" who handled the guard positions so effectively in the Georgia-Alabama game Thanksgiving.

"We wonder if you writers aren't giving the wrong member of the pair credit for causing our friend Sington so much trouble. We also wonder how Red Leathers came to be playing the side of the trouble. We also wonder how Red Leathers came to be playing left guard when his regular position is on the right side of the line. Look at your line-up again, Friend Ed, and 'Render unto Sincerely, TWO GEORGIA JUNIORS.

Leathers and Maddox, Georgia's two red-headed guards, are concentrated nitric acid in there and have been all season. Too much cannot be said in praise of their work. They came through just when Georgia needed line strength most. As a pair of sophomore guards their like has never before appeared

I did not see the Alabama game. On reliable reports from "them as did" I can say, in justice to all hands that it was a tow-headed thunderbolt named Jack Roberts who collided at full tilt with the great Alabamian and cracked the ribs.

After being hit by such a human battering ram as Jack Roberts I think Sington can be pardoned if he was troubled by the Georgia guards. Out of the incident I am sure there was glory enough for all four players.

Pegler Tells How Old Associates Came to Pier and Were "Left."

By Westbrook Pegler.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Tunney, of Greenwich, Conn., returned to New York today aboard the steamship Vulcania after a honeymoon of 15 months amid the pleasures and palaces of the old world.

They were greeted at the pier by two separate delegations, one representing Mr. Tunney's new social estate, the other composed of gentlemen who were his colleagues in his late profession.

men who were his colleagues in his late profession.

This latter party gathered at the old Pioneer Athletic Club on the east side at high noon and repaired to a near-by caravansary for a collation of Bourbon and herrings with potato chips. They then marched uptown to West 44th street and the North river under a banner, lettered "Welcome Home, Gene Tunney," led by Mr. Dumb Dan Morgan and Mr. Joe the Goneff, who was so named in his early youth in Hester street when he stole a ham. Others in this party were the Reisler boys, Johnny and Sid, representing themselves and their father, John the Barber; Mr. Danny Ridge, the returned lightweight, now a licensed referee and house disciplinarian for a trucking firm with a large practice along the docks; Mr. Fatzo Zuckerman. Mr. Jack Britton, the old welterweight champlon; Mr. Tunney; the Mitchell boys, Leo and Andrew, puglists; Mr. Pete the Goat, late manager of the late Stanley Ketchell; Mr. John the Baptist, and Mr. Izzy the Painter.

So, as soon as the first-class gangplank was hoisted into place Mr. Gibson and his party went aboard and went to Mr. Tunnney's suite to warn him of the presence of many socially undesirable characters on the dock. Mr. Gimble had gone aboard the Vuicania at quarantine and was with cania at quarantine and was with the Tunneys in their apartment un-aware of the conspiracy to remind him of his old profession.

Don Miller Returns

To See Jackets Play

Don Miller, member of Notre Dame's famous "Four Horsemen" and better known in Atlanta by reason of having coached the Yellow Jacket backfield of Georgia Fach in their march to fame, arrived in town yesterday after a season as backfield coach at Ohio State. Earl Layden, one of his cohorts on the destruction-spreading quarter at South Bend and more recently coach at Dusquesne college, accompanied him on the trip. Both will attend the Tech-Georgia game in Athena Saturday.

Don made numerous friends during his stay here as a member of the Tech coaching staff and, while he was missed, he missed them.

Don said yesterday afternoon, "Yes, Ohio State is a fine place. Great place to work, nice people, and we had a pretty good team. But I sure missed being in Atlanta."

Biff Jones, Army coach; Bob Zuppke, mentor at Illinois, and Chick Meehan, coach at New York University, are expected to arrive in Atlanta within the next day or so, and will also attend the game in Atlanta.

Captain McEwan thinks the only alarming thing about football is found not on the field but around the hotel lobbies before the game and in the stadium during the game.

It seems that Captain John has been conducting a bit of research in bacteriology and has isolated the football "nut."

Caach McEwan declared football on the west coast to be on a par with that played anywhere in the conference. He pointed out that the Western conference was one of the best in football and one of the hardest in which to win a championship. All the teams were defeated this year, indicating that most of them were of about equal strength.

ST. MARY'S OUT.

"I don't think there is any possibility of St. Mary's being invited to play in the Pasadena Rose Bowl game," he said. "They aren't a member of the conference. But don't think they haven't got a great football team. They remind me a great deal of the 1921 Notre Dame eleven. They have four backs and they are fall good ball carriers and good interferers.

MATERIAL SCANT.

Material is so scant that coaches have little chance to start substitutes against the Georgians in order that the regulars may see the style of attack and get some idea of the Georgia team's attitude.

The regulars, from all indications, will start and finish. The burden is on them almost entirely. It will be the last game for many of them, and that factor is aiding the team in preparation for the final game of the game. Back before the war there were three heavyweight parties holding most of the limelight. They were Jess Willard, the champion; Fred Fulton, the plasterer, and Bill Brennan, who had just won 40 fights in a most of them by knockouts.

Then a young unknown by the name of Jack Dempsey came along. He was matched with Brennan as the last step before Brennan met Fulton to decide the name of the challenger who would face Willard.

"I'd like to carry you, Jack," Brennan said before the fight. "But I can't with a shot at Willard waiting."

Dempsey knocked him down with the first punch and knocked him out in a few rounds, the last fall being hard enough to break Brennan's leg. After that Dempsey had Fulton unconscious on the floor at the end

We thought we'd had fine receptions elsewhere, but this one is the finest we've had. The cold weather surprised us. I understand that in south Georgia it is almost semi-tropical, but to find it this cold here was a shock. It is fine, crisp weather, however, and we are enjoying it."

Later on in the afternoon Dean Boyard expressed himself in favor of intersectional games. He declared they possessed a positive educational val-ue which justified them and made them valuable to the men making them.

The Oregon team worked out on Grant field yesterday afternoon and after dinner at the Ansley boarded a 9 o'clock train for Jacksonville, where they will work for two days before going on to Miami.

The trip is the longest ever taken by a football team. It will be a journey of about 8,000 miles when it is completed. The Oregon team played last Pecember in Honolulu.

Mr. Tunney looked well, weighing. He said, about 192 pounds. He had been continuing the routine exercises which developed his physique from a rather scrawny 175 pounds to a solid heavyweight stature—but only to keep fit. Hope still is held out that Dale Van Sickel, 1928 All-American end, will play against the Pacific Coast Webfooters. Proctor seems restored to his best form and has been running all week at right tackle on the first string. One of the most consistent halfbacks of the season, "Red" Bethea. still is nursing a bad ankle, and will not be in at the start of hostilities. His post will be filled by "Monk" Dorsett.

NEW YORK. Dec. 3.—(United News.)—The All-America football team for 1929, whose members lived up in every sense to the most rigid requirements of national greatness this season, has been named by the United News with the assistance and advice of more than 200 coaches, officials and experts from every part of the country. the country.

The team, one of the strongest ever chosen for such recognition, is made up of players who not only stood out as individual performers during the year, but were of paramount value to their respective elevens from the first to the last.

Stars who flared up brilliantly during the season in a few games but were absent when their teams needed them most have been omitted from the United News' All-America eleven. The test this year was the most rigid ever applied, and the result has been a team truly representative of the best football played in every section of the country.

The selections, based upon the studied advice of football experts from coast to coast, follow:

Mrs. Tunney, apparently in robust health again, made herself pleasant to the press. Speaking of her operation, Mr. Tunney took occasion to deny/a cabled report of some weeks back that he had submitted to one himself. He also disclaimed a one-punch knockout at the expense of a 125-pound French newspaper photographer at Cannes, and said the episode was invented in a newspaper bureau in Paris.

AUTHORING EN ROUTE.

Although Mr. Tunney has acknowledged some authority as a critic of literature, having once challenged George Bernard Shaw on a work of his, his own proficiency, judged by a composition which he penmed for the golden book of the steamship Vulcania, en voyage, has improved little if at all, since it was necessary for him to commit his newspaper essays through the medium of a ghost or forger. This article read as follows:

"Unfortunately, 'old Neptune,' a respecter of no personage or occasion—even 'Halcyon' herself—started rumbling and waving his trident as 'Miss Vulcania' passed 'the Rock of Hercules;' the seas got rough, the skies gloomy and I assumed a horizontal position in which I remained quite_cold for the count of four days.

"I have not the imagination to conceive of a possible improvement in the construction and comfort of the ship and I think 'Epicurus' himself, would have only words of praise and amazement for the table and service.

Atlanta's 1929-30 basketball season will be ushered in tonight at 8:30 o'clock on the Georgia Tech court with a game between Georgia Military academy and a picked team from the Havara Yacht Club. It will be the first major basketball game of the season and will be a part of the "good-will" visit of athletes from Cuba.

CADETS IN SHAPE.

Although only five days have been devoted to basketball practice, the G. M. A. quintet, city prep champions of 1928, appeared to be in excellent shape Tuesday night, following its final practice. Only two veterans from the championship five are left and both Suddeth and Norman Hackney have been named joint captains for the game tonight.

A lengthy practice was held Tuesday.

A lengthy practice was held Tues-ay night and the team showed plenty f drive and accuracy at the baskets. Johnson, a newcomer, and Gantt, from the G. M. A. junior team last year, will probably start in the forward position. They have been working well together in the short practice.

Hackney, a brother of the former University of North Carolina basketball stars, will again be at center and Suddeth, last year's captain, will be at one of the guard positions. Mann, Continued on Third Sport Page.

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 3.—With just four more days before the Tech game, which will wind up an up and down season for the Georgia football team, Harry Mehre had his men scrimmaging in the bitingly cold winds that swept Sanford field this afternoon.

Only a part of the varsity saw action in the scrimmages today and the boys scored touchdowns without number against the freshmen eleven. Armin Waugh, the little halfback from Atlanta, side-stepped his way down the field four times for touchdowns against the "Rat" eleven, which until now has always held the varsity to close scores. But the boys went on a scoring orgy this afternoon and just couldn't be stopped.

The boys who played most of the Alabama game were noticeable for their absence from the scrimmage. Advices from Cordoba province told of yields one-third or less of normal. Highest quotations of the day for wheat here were attained in consequence partly of a telegraphic error which specified a much higher elose of the Liverpool market than was actually the case. Buying became somewhat more active as prices worked upward without meeting any particular selling pressure, and the market showed increasing activity and strength during the afternoon, when buying was evidently encouraged by the firm ruling of the stock and grain markets. December advanced to 17.41 and March to 17.80, while May sold up to 18.05 and the close was within 2 or 3 points of the best on most positions.

Up to the close of business today four of the private end-November crop reports had been published. These estimates in bales of 500 pounds have ranged from 14,635,000 up to 14,560,000 bales and have increased a disposition in some quarters here to scale down estimates of the yield because of unfavorable weather during.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3.—(P)—avorable construction of President Favorable construction of President Hoover's message to congress coupled with two bullish private crop estimates caused cotton prices to work over $1 a bale higher today following a period of easiness right after the start. January contracts after declining to 17.12, rallied to 17.45 and closed 2 points under the latter figure for a net gain of 23 points. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 23 to 26 points.

Later in the morning two private crop estimates of 14,869,000 and 14,635,000 bales, respectively, were considered bullish and started prices on the upgrade. BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER,
Associated Press Financial Writer.
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(P)—The stock market hailed President Hoover's message to congress today with the most spirited upsurge in prices ince the return of normaley.
Not since the two-day technical vally from the late bear market's bottom, reached on November 13, have stocks scored such broad advances. The more popular trading shares generally rose 1 to 15 points, while a few erratic issues made higher gains. The hesitancy which the stock market often displays on *the convening of congress, due to legislative uncertainties, was notably lacking. The strong forward movement was in face of indications that the session will bring forth acrimonious attacks upon speculation.

The market displayed pronounced self-control, however, trading picked up considerably, 8,809,150 shares changing hands, compared to 2,513,-240 yesterday, but the day's turnover was moderate compared to those of the bull ofgies of not so long ago.

However Pleases.

Particularly pleasing to Wall Street were the president's statements endicated that the piling up of funds at this center pending discussions as temployment for longer terms, had produced a somewhat artificial situation.

The stock exchange announced that member borrowings during November had declined $2,012,000,000, carrying the total to the lowest level in two years. This total, which is more inclusive than the weekly federal reserve figures, was somewhat smaller than anticipated, as loans placed through federal reserve member banks again in declined approximately as much over the corresponding period. Also the corresponding period. Considered that the piling declined approximately as much over than the weekly federal reserve figures, was somewhat smaller than anticipated, as loans placed through federal reserve figures the bull ofgies of not so long ago.

Hoover Pleases.

Particularly pleasing to Wall Street were the president's statements expressing his belief that confidence in economic progress had been restored, that new construction and expanding foreign trade will tend to stabilize conditions, that uncertainties over the tariff should be minimized, that rail consolidation should be pressed, and that the government should refrain where possible from operation of power or manufacturing centerprises.

Bright spots of the day's industrial developments were the increase in developments were the increase in law the ford plants and Edsel Ford's description of uext year's outlook as "excellent," disclosure that look as "e

BULLS REAPPEAR IN FORCE TO BRING MANY GAINS IN CURB MARKET Strong Buying Movements Follow President's Message

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL.

Associated Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(P)—Speculative sentiment turned distinctly bullish in today's curb market, with President Hoover's message to congress conceded to be the chief stimulists to buying. Prices generally were lifted out of the narrow trading area within which they have been fluctuating for the past fortnight, and maintained most of their gains, although there were a few soft spots scattered throughout the list.

Trading, which has been rather lethargic, picked up on the rally, the day's sales falling off just below 1,400, the position reach for stocks, many of them to placing orders well below the market in the expectation that there is still a possibility of their being filled. Active short covering accounted for much of today's advance in some of the speculative issues.

The mystery surrounding the recent weakness of Pennroad Corporation, which sank to a new low level today at 13 5-8, was explained by the expiration of the underwriting synditic atte. The corporation is reported to have been a heavy buyer of New Haven. Boston and Maine and other eastern railroad jumped 22 1-2 points to a new low at 23 4-8. Prices advanced 1-32c to the basis of 3.71 for spots, duty paid with sales at this level of 58,000 bags of uncontrolled Cuban for prompt shipment to local refiners.

Aside from the present December position, which was relatively easy under liquidation, raw futures developed a firmer undertone in the late trading, which was probably due to the steadler tone of the spot market and the firmer ruling of London. The market opened unchanged to 3 points lower under liquidation and a little Cuban selling of the January position. But offerings were soon absorbed and on covering and buying by trade and commission houses prices recovered the initial setback and closed with net gains of 2 to 3 points. The spot month at one time was 5 points lower under liquidation, caused by the issuance of two notices, but when they were stopped that position also rallied and closed at a net decline of 2 points. Some of the buying was believed to be covering hedges against sales in the spot market, while President Hoover's address to congress stressing the need for promptness in settling the tariff matter may also have had some influence. Approximate sales 28,650 tons. December closed 1.90: January 1.98; May 2.12; July 2.18; September 2.28.

In refined a good day-to-day business is reported and prices were unchanged at 5.00 for fine granulated. Sugar.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Cotton goods markets showed little change and were quiet. Movement of finished stacks was reported to have been accelerated, and interest in further gray goods gained, although price irregularity accounted for buyer hesitancy. Cotton yarns were quiet and unchanged. Burlaps were reported steady on some cables, with better spot and aflost inquiry. Spot raw silks were weaker here and in Japan active there though still quiet here. Manufacturers in market expected liberal concessions.

Rice. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3.—Rough rice good demand. Sales none; receipts 1,681. Clean rice quiet. Sales none; receipts 540.

There Has Never Been a Decline In the Gross Earnings of the Electric Light and Power Industry

All available records since the beginning of the industry show an uninterrupted year-to-year increase in gross earnings.

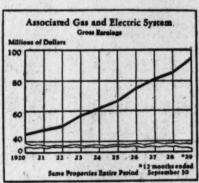

Even during the severe depression of 1921 when the volume of manufactures in the United States declined 32% below 1920, the gross earnings of the electric industry increased 7%

This unbroken record of industrial growth, considering size and duration, is unparalleled in modern history.

The necessity nature of the servicesupplying light and power to 20 million homes, to factories, offices, stores and places of amusement-accounts for this unique stability.

The gross earnings of the Associated Gas and Electric System have increased each year and have more than doubled Proven stability has established a singular confidence in the industry.

The present low prices of securities with the exceptional growth possibilities of the electric industry provide an investment opportunity probably not equalled by any other industry.

Have Your Property Appraised by the Atlanta Real Estate Board

"Thought you were moving East, Jim?" "Got to get my apartment off my hands first.
What's the quickest way to find a good tenant?" "Put it up to your Realtor - that's his long suit," your REALTOR isa Merchandiser

Finding the right tenant - for an apartment, a store or an office - is one form of merchandising that demands expert skill and a thorough knowledge of the market,

It's a job that calls for specialized training.

If you had pig iron to sell - or automobiles or flour or electric washers—common sense would tell you to look for men experienced in selling that particular form of merchandise.

The same principle applies when you have real estate space to sell.

Consult your Realtor. He is best qualified, by training and experience, to advise you as to the most profitable use for your space, and to find you the best type of tenant.

And from the wings an unkempt figure watched the strange proceedings, his evil, leering features working spasmodically in varying expressions ranging from amazement to terror. . . "Long have I looked for you, Tarzan," the ape was saying. "Now that I have found you at last, I shall come to your jungle and live there always." The man stroked the beast's head affectionately, oblivious to his son's astonished, fascinated gaze.

The man sighed. Strong within him surged the jungle hunger he had thought dead. Ah! if he could go back-for even a brief month! To feel the brush of leafy branches against his naked hide. To smell the jungle fragrance. To sense the noiseless coming of great beasts upon his trail; to hunt and to be hunted; to kill! The picture was alluring. And then came another picture. His wife, still beautiful and young; friends; a home; his son!
